The Young People's Christian Association was organized in 1907. The purpose of the association is for the moral and spiritual development of the students of this school.

Song service and Sunday school were held at two fifteen and service at three o'clock Sunday afternoons. The Christian Endeavor met Sunday evenings.

Various pastors and business men of Crookston and other places spoke before the young people at the three o'clock meetings. Their topics were well selected, and their speeches were of high order.

The members of the association express their heartiest thanks to these speakers, as they greatly appreciated the inspiring talks that were given by them.

This year, for the first time, this association sent two delegates to the State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association that was held at Northfield, Minn., Feb. 12th to 15th inclusive.

John Hest and Chester Wilson were the two delegates this year. On their return they gave a very interesting report of the convention.

It is hoped that delegates will be sent to the annual convention every year.
