

The invitation that had been extended to the people of the community to attend the afternoon and evening celebrations was well responded to, and many outsiders were on hand for the program given at four o'clock in the auditorium.

The program consisted of music, readings and a Thanksgiving talk by Supt. C. G. Selvig. The numbers from the Model School were a new feature, and very much appreciated. Mr. Selvig, in a few well chosen words, expressed many of the things for which we have particular reasons for being thankful this year.

After a short intermission, moving pictures were shown in the auditorium. Between the reels, pictures of the school activities were thrown on the screen much to the delight of the audience.

At six o'clock a buffet lunch was served in the dining room, the Juniors assisting.

In the evening, the games so dear to the hearts and inspiring to the feet of the students were indulged in. The happy Thanksgiving spirit was contagious, and every one present seemed to be fairly bubbling with thankfulness and good will.

The day as a whole was one of the most successful days in the history of the school, and will long be remembered by those who shared in its pleasures.

Friday, November 27.

"Why does Mr. Hest blush to a crimson hue ever and anon?"

A Friday saying by "Chuck" Harris: "I smell fish."

Saturday, November 28.

Moving pictures followed by three half games of basket ball.

1st team vs. Seniors—won by first team.

1st team vs. Juniors—won by first team.

Juniors vs. Seniors—won by Seniors.

Sunday, November 29.

"Sweethearts' Day."

A large number of students were celebrating.

Tuesday, December 1.

Hagen:—"Nobody loves a small man."

Thursday, December 3.

Why does Bob go to his other room and look through the west window?

Saturday, December 5.

At chapel exercises a name for the Annual was voted on, resulting in a vote in the ratio of 3 to 1 in favor of the "The Red River Aggie."

Sunday, December 6.

Supt. Sanberg, of the Crookston schools, gave a very good talk at our evening meeting.

Monday, December 7.

The Advanced Course students gave a good program this evening.

Tuesday, December 8.

Question: "Why is Tuesday designated as our "Blue Monday?"

Answer: Classes meet.

Wednesday, December 9.

The students went to hear the talks given at the Red River Valley Dairy-men's Convention this afternoon.

The A. C. Band played a number of selections.

The play "Back to the Farm" was given with great success.

Thursday, December 10.

Some of the students went to hear the lectures at the Dairy-men's meeting in town this afternoon.

William Lindberg is making a short visit at the school.

Friday, December 11.

Our first team is surely showing results from their regular practice and from the efficient coaching under Mr. O. Buhr.