

Filling His Own Shoes.

MARTINUS STENSETH

Athletics

This story is always readable and interesting, while the upward rise and romantic adventures of the erstwhile farmer and "lug" salesman has an appeal of its own.

Take It From Me.

LEIGHTON JOINER

Assistant Farm Engineering

One of the latest publications. We find the hero of this novel quiet, unassuming, and conscientious. "These Senior girls certainly know how to cook."

When a Man's Single.

H. C. KITTELSON

Carpentry and Blacksmithing

The scene is laid in Crookston at the present time. A narrative of economic interest in which a man succeeds in the business world by inventing several ingenious devices.
