SENIOR PLAY

TRIAL SCENE

MERCHANT OF VENICE

In place of a play, the Seniors are this year presenting a scene from Shakespeare. "The Merchant of Venice" is perhaps the most widely known of all of Shakespeare's plays, and the famous trial scene in that play presents one of the most dramatic and remarkable situations ever conceived by a dramatist. The tragedy of the scene is relieved by comedy touches. The portrayal of human nature of the characters there gathered together, affords such striking contrasts, and the setting is so rich and effective, as to make this scene one of tremendous appeal and interest to every audience.
