

ADVANCED CLASS

SCHOOL LIFE

OLE A. FLAAT, '16—Class President.

Ole has won many honors since entering school with the '16's. Aside from doing excellent school work, Ole has won renown on the gridiron and in debating. As half back on the 1916 football team, Ole was a consistent ground gainer for the Aggies, and scored several touch downs. The latent debating propensities that had been so long dormant in Ole's breast, broke forth last year when he helped to win the "Selvig Cup" for the Pioneer Society; his latest achievement has been the winning of a place on the 1917 Morris Debating Team.

Almira Torgerson has demonstrated by her superior system of keeping class accounts that women can be trusted with money. Almira has won a leading place with the school as a debater, for she helped prove conclusively that "The high cost of living is the cost of high living." The girls' basket ball team would be incomplete without Almira as forward.

LESTER GARCEAU, '16—Vice President.

Lester has always been a popular student, and has taken a leading part in school activities. He was elected captain of the 1916 football team and made a good pivot around which our team was built. Lester's weight, speed and "heady" work contributed largely to the success of the team.

Palmer Ericson has won a reputation for himself, because of his studious habits and his literary talents. As a graduate of the Central Agricultural School in the class of '14 Mr. Ericson has had a chance to put in practice some of the things he has learned; his results have been so successful that he has been inspired to learn all an agricultural course in college can give. Palmer is one of the "pillars" of the Y. M. C. A. and was elected as one of the delegates to the State Convention at Duluth.

Edwin Hammer is another recruit from the class of '16. Edwin as a student has conscientiously lived up to the family name, and in all of his courses has gone after them with "hammer and tongs." He hammered the line hard all through the football season and won the final A. Edwin will leave a big place vacant in the band in that he has been holding down the bass section now for four years.

THORVAL TUNHEIM, 16.

A great future is forecasted for Thorval, for all through his stay here he has taken a leading part in all school activities. He is one of the guards of the school's reputation, playing guard on both the football and basketball teams. Aside from being on the school debating team, playing in the band, soloing in the musical cantata, and acting as officer in the Pioneer Debating Society and Y. M. C. A. respectively, Thorval has been able to win an enviable reputation in class work.