

DAY BY DAY

19. "Grads" begin to hunt subjects for final essays and orations. Advanced class gives a very good program.

20. First team practice hard for game with Crookston.

21. Miss Holliday acts as judge at a musical contest at Grand Forks.

22. Washington's birthday. No classes. "Aggies" win over Crookston Athletics 26 to 12. Seniors win from "Freshies."

23. Studded trousers are becoming fashionable.

24. "Aggies" lose to Ada. Seniors lose to Juniors. Interesting "movies" shown in auditorium before games.

25. No let up on the weather. Snow and cold. Mr. Ball delivers an inspirational address to a joint meeting of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

26. Monday. Rink is cleared off again. Home Economics Club gives very interesting program followed by refreshments and games in gym.

27. Rink is flooded. First team practice.

28. Shorty's nineteenth birthday. If he only were the boy his mother thinks he is.

Great competition for the American Magazine on campus. House meeting of Senior hall boys.

This ends the work of the chronicler. The history of our book from now on rests entirely on expectations. Therefore the writer of these daily happenings will take this means of wishing you all good luck and God speed.

SCHEDULE OF COMING EVENTS

March 2. Miss Sherwood will entertain the advanced class at a candy pull at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Selvig.

March 3. Basket ball, Erskine vs. first team A. C. The film "The Old Homestead" will be shown just before the game.

March 5. Girls basket ball team will play their first outside game. They will travel to Warren and will play the high school girls' team of that city.

March 10. First team to go to Ada to play return game.

March 11. Rev. E. E. Shawl will address the students.

March 19. Seniors will be guests of Juniors at annual Junior-Senior banquet.

March 23. Annual debate between this school and Morris. Messrs. Lurton, Norby and Hay will act as judges.

March 24. Annual indoor field meet. Classes seem to be evenly matched so far.

Members of Crookston Commercial Club will be guests of the evening.

LAST YEAR'S EVENTS

The Crookston--Morris Debate.

The fourth annual Morris-Crookston debate was held on Saturday evening, March 18th, 1916. Chester Wilson, Conrad Clementson and Walter Peterson journeyed to Morris, while Willard Johnston, Thorval Tunheim and Martinus Stenseth debated at Crookston. The judges decided in favor of Morris at both places.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The Junior-Senior banquet of the Northwest School of Agriculture was held Monday evening, March 20, in the dining room of Stephens Hall. The dining room was decorated to look like a garden and the Senior class colors, navy blue and gold, were used in the decoration. The room was lighted with blue and gold lanterns, artistically designed. The background of the room was a screen representing a garden scene. The tables were arranged in a hollow square, within which were beds of jonquils. The windows were decorated with window boxes filled with jonquils and shaded by blue and gold awnings. The tables were artistically decorated with jonquils and lighted by electroliers with jonquil shades. The whole effect was wonderfully artistic and beautiful.

There were 114 guests seated at the table, including the Seniors, Juniors, and members of the faculty. The banquet was served by members of the Freshmen class.

Magnus Spjut, president of the Junior class, was toastmaster, and the following people were called upon: