

ODDS AND ENDS

Each program is becoming better than the preceding one. The Juniors showed their powers in a program given on January 29. The program was as follows:

Roosevelt's Speech to the Boys of America	- - - - -	Arthur Christianson
Character Sketch of Rebecca, (heroine of Scott's "Ivanhoe")	- - - - -	Olga Tunheim
Rebecca's Trial	- - - - -	Inga Lofgren
"Simplicity" by Henry VanDyke	- - - - -	Harold Morris
Debate—"Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine should be abandoned by the United States."

Affirmative:
Bernard Moses and
Oscar Samuelson

Negative:
Fred Rubert and
Guy Spokely

The girls' quartette then sang several songs followed by the Senior boys' quartette. The advanced class favored us with an excellent program on February 19. A poem by Robert Burns entitled "To a Mountain Daisy" was ably given by Johanna Monson. Another poem by Shelley, our greatest lyric writer, was given by Hannah Imsdahl. Oscar Gigstad explained clearly to us the form of composition called the "Sonnet" and gave Milton's sonnet "On His Blindness." President Wilson's speech before the senate on January 22 was discussed by Palmer Ericson. This was followed by a discussion on the desirability of a co-operative laundry in connection with a good co-operative creamery. A beautiful piano selection, "The Narcissus," was rendered by Miss Florence Haenke, which was followed by the reading of the Advanced newspaper and also several songs by a boys' quartette.
