

Junior-Senior Banquet

MAR. 1

One of the outstanding events of the school year was the banquet given in honor of the Senior Class by the Juniors, at Stephens Hall, Monday, March 1. Both skill and ingenuity were shown in the way the room was decorated and by the delicious and bountiful meal that was served. The program was striking and unusual. The different speeches and musical numbers were as follows:

Striking the Match,-----Mr. C. E. Brown
Closed Shop,-----Melvin Bengtson
Negotiation, -----Gladys Erickson
Violin Duet, -----Selected

Miss Esther Kroog and Einar Aakre

Picket Duty,-----Rufus Logan
Striking Ways, -----Miss Margaret Burns
Vocal Duet, -----Springtime

Hope Jensen and Esther Landby

Strikebreakers, -----Clarence Tucker
Striking Styles, -----Laura Jensen
Cello Solo, -----

Mr. A. C. Howe

Deadlock, -----Laudy Reske
Arbitration, -----Supt. C. G. Selvig

MAR. 5

The Senior girls and Miss Rockwood were pleasantly entertained by Miss Ball at her home in Crookston, Friday, March fifth. The evening was delightfully spent and it seemed but a short time before the bus was waiting at the door ready for the return trip.

MARCH 17

Mr. and Mrs. Foker, the Senior Class Advisors, entertained the class on the eve of St. Patrick's Day. Many games were played and prizes were given to the winners of three different contests. A delicious luncheon was served, followed by the singing of a few of the old, familiar songs, after which everyone departed in a happy, appreciative mood.

MARCH 24

The Senior class and faculty were entertained by Superintendent and Mrs. Selvig at their home, March 23. This annual event has always been looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. Selvig are splendid entertainers and a delightful evening was spent by everyone.