

Northwest School of Agriculture

N is for Ness who in Basket Ball won fame.
O is for Ole and Oscar the same.
R is for Rud who's out on the Farm.
T is for Tunheim with the milk pail on his arm.
H is for Henry, so brilliant and smart,
W is for Warner who'll sure make a mark.
E is for Ellen who's afraid of the dark.
S is for Swiers who plays on the Team.
T is for Torke whose eyes brightly gleam.

S is for Silness, so handsome and tall.
C is for Chuck, the dearest of all.
H is for Hazel, full of goodness and fun.
O is for Olga who is shy as a nun.
O is for Olaf who in Basket Ball can beat.
L is for Louis whom all girls think sweet.

O is for Ole, a farmer is he.
F is for Felber, a statesman he'll be.

A is for Agness who dresses so neat.
G is for Grignon whom soon we shall meet.
R is for Ruby whose marks are so high.
I is for Inga, so modest and shy.
C is for Campion whom all girls think fair.
U is for Una, a humorist so rare.
L is for Louise who loves a good tare.
T is for Tucker who owns a Ford car.
U is for You, whoever you are.
R is for Reske whose manners are fine.
E is for Ella, full of music and time.

Freshie to Nurse—"Are you regular here?"

Miss Casselman—"Yes, I am here all the time. Are you a Freshman?"

Freshie—"Huh!"

Miss Casselman—"Are you a Freshman?"

Freshie—"No, I am Bohemian."

A senior upon entering a Freshie's room discovered him forcefully blowing at his study lamp. Upon the Senior's inquiry as to his object he answered, "I am going to bed, but I can't blow out my light."

Miss Burns in A English Class—"Mr. Swiers, give me a quotation from 'The Merchant of Venice.'"

Mr. Swiers—"God made us, therefore let us pass as Seniors."

Two Seniors discussing the new waitress:—

Brunell—"She smiled on me."

Sprung—"She laughed at me."

Brunell—"Gee Whiz' You're one ahead yet!"