A great deal of interest and enthusiasm was aroused over athletic sports at the Northwest School during the season of 1920 and 1921. It was very gratifying to see the large number of recruits trying out for places on the class and school athletic teams. In spite of heavy class schedules and long school days, twenty-five to forty men were out for football, anxious to learn the game. Some fifty men received training in basket ball in the first team and class.
