THE Music Department offers excellent opportunities for anyone who is musically talented, or wishes to acquire a better appreciation of music.

Those who desire to become proficient on some musical instrument have a wide variety of choice. Foremost is the piano, which forms the basis for most musical activity; next the violin, and with it other orchestral as well as band instruments. The most prominent of these are the saxophone, clarinet, cornet, trombone, alto horn, and drums. Students of piano have ample opportunity to display their talent and progress at the many programs given, while those studying orchestral instruments get practical experience in the school orchestra.

Those who wish to learn to sing may take private lessons in voice training, or join one of the many ensemble groups, such as the boys' or girls' glee clubs, or the mixed chorus. Thus they may become solo singers or acquire a fine training in part-singing.

The musical training received at the Northwest School is invaluable in its cultural influence throughout the Red River Valley.
