

Foreword,

IN THIS year's Red River Aggie, the endeavor has been to emphasize through picture and narrative, the standards and ideals of this school and the value of its service, as a practical institution, to the people of the Red River Valley. To brighten our theme, there are included bits of fun and frolic from the lighter side of school life.

It is our hope that this book may serve as an inspiration to other young people of the Valley, by instilling in their minds the desire to follow the path we have taken.

If it may thus be of service to the people of the Red River Valley and to our School our efforts will not have been in vain.
