

THE RED RIVER AGGIE

HAROLD AMUNDSON

another new man, held down his position in left halfback in a creditable manner. He played well in team work and was a great aid to our other backfieldmen.

IVER EKLUND

although not playing in all the games, made a strong reserve. He was a good forward passer, and, with this year's experience, should prove a valuable man for next season.

CLARENCE OFSTEDAHL

the other wing position, showed up well as a defensive end. Besides being fast, Clarence was an accurate tackler, and strong on spilling interference. With this year's experience to his credit, he will prove a valuable man next year.

CECIL BERGH, Captain-Elect

although the smallest man on the team, played a very good game all season from right half-back position, besides being the best forward pass grabber and hardest tackler on the team. He could also be called upon to carry the ball for his share of the gains. Part of the credit given the accurate place kicking by Forseth must be shared with him.

EINAR LOVEN

was the most consistent end on the team. Being fast on getting down under the punts, he played his forward passes well and was always in the thick of the fight.

The reserves who played in games are: Oliver Howard, Owen Howe, Albert Carlson, Earl Burk and Melvin Person.

The following have completed their foot ball work: Wallace Miller, James Hanson, Howard Balk, Walter Luchau.

Harry Sandbeck should be given credit for his faithfulness as an attendant and medical assistant.
