

Boys' Pow-Wow and Girls' Frolic

THE first social events during the opening week of school were the Boys' Pow-wow and the Girls' Frolic which were held in the dormitories.

The girls had their Frolic in Robertson Hall. After the new girls had been initiated, Miss Simley gave a few readings and the girls who had been to the State Fair last fall, gave some interesting talks about their trip and experiences while there. The apple hunt made a fitting climax for the evening.

The boys enjoyed talks given by faculty members and old students, dealing with different organizations. These talks were so inspiring that they caused the Freshmen to gaze in amazement at the possibilities in store for them at the school. The big feature of the evening was the strongman's stunt, which was won by a Freshman. As the late hours approached, apples were served in a rather hilarious manner, after which the boys snake-danced to Robertson Hall and serenaded the girls, who were just completing their Frolic.

Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Reception

THE first social event in the school term this year was the reception which was given by the Y.M. and Y.W.C.A. organizations on October 4. This event served as a general get-acquainted party for the old and new students. Indeed, the entire school seemed alive with fun and frolic. Games were played, and as the late hours of the night approached, refreshments were served, after which everyone departed feeling warmed by the spirit of good fellowship.

The Out-Door Festival

IT IS customary to hold an out-door festival each year to pay homage to the Autumn Season. This festival is observed by eating our supper under the spreading branches of the campus forest; and around the bright burning light of a campfire a class contest of games is held on the Campus Square.

Unfortunately, this year the weather conditions were unfavorable for the scheduled evening. Because of this episode, our supper was eaten at the dining hall. After gratifying our hunger, we gathered in the gymnasium in class groups to participate in stunts and games. Among the main events of the evening were pillow fights, traveling races, and swatting contests. Messrs. McGall and Hillmon combated in the swatting contest which resulted in a black eye for Mr. Hillmon. The evening fun ended in the gymnasium by eating delicious Neapolitan sandwiches after which some folks went out to enjoy the calm light of the moon that covered the campus after the tempest of the storm, while others went home to rest their weary bones, and discuss the events of the evening.

Mr. Clark (in Physics class)—“You see, ah, there is a great deal of difference in the physical density of people as well as in their mental density.”
