

CECIL BERGH, Captain,

playing his last year, was one of the main ground gainers of the team. As quarter-back, he proved a clever pilot. Offensively, he was a hard tackler and fast. Cecil played the best game of his career at Morris.

CLARENCE OFSTEDAHL

playing a wing position, was a dependable right-end. Clarence turned his plays in and was strong on spilling interference. This was his last year.

JOE SKATVOLD

playing left half-back, was a determining factor in many games because of his punting ability. His kicking was true and accurate.

MELVIN PERSON

playing his second year, alternated in the back-field. He was a consistent hard-worker and a dependable reserve. We hope to see him back next year.

JAMES COWAN

played substitute end. He was a fast man down on punts and a good loyal worker.
