

TURGEON                      AAKRE                      FOXY FIVE                      SKATVOLD                      LOVEN                      AAKRE

August—"Robertson Hall" (in two scenes), directed by Walter Luchau and Elmer Krogstad.
 September—"The Charleston" directed by Robert Johnson.
 October—"Hallowe'en" directed by Ray Magneson.
 November—"Minstrel Show" directed by Rose Kozojed.
 December—"Mock Wedding" directed by Earl Luchau.

Artists' Recitals

AMONG the most pleasant entertainments of the year was the series of concerts put on in cooperation with various women's clubs of Crookston. Artists from the University of Minnesota were secured for four recitals held in the Presbyterian church, and students from the Northwest School were admitted on their privilege tickets. In addition, the artists also appeared at Assembly and gave a short program for the students alone.

The series consisted of a piano recital by Clyde Stephens, a violin recital by Karl Scheurer, an evening of vocal music by Mrs. Inez C. Richter, and a chamber music concert by an instrumental trio.

Lecture Course

THROUGH the cooperation of the Extension division of the University, entertainments are secured for a lecture course. On October 31, the Kentucky Jubilee Singers appeared in a concert of negro spirituals and also modern quartettes. On November 28, the University of North Dakota Playmakers presented "Her Husband's Wife." On February 17, the Brownie Trio entertained with song and instrumental numbers. The Tambuitza Serenaders were billed for March 6.

In addition to the entertainments thus provided, several films were shown in the auditorium with the school picture machine. Peter Pan, Robin Hood, Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall, and America are all screen classics exhibited for the students.

Thanksgiving Day

ON Thanksgiving Day, November 26, 1925, 305 years after the first Thanksgiving Day, the faculty, students, and friends of the Northwest School met together in the dining hall to praise and thank the Lord, who so richly had