CLASS HISTORY

As members of the advanced class, after realizing that our education was not complete when we had finished the three-year course, we returned in the fall of '26 and again took up our duties as students at the Northwest School. We do not do them from a sense of duty, but because our duties at this school have become a daily pleasure. We enjoy going to classes because we have become interested in our class-work—thanks to our instructors.

Some of our members have planned to go on to college. Those who cannot enter college realize that they are not through with their education when they get their diplomas, but know that they have a good foundation to enter the school of experience.

The four years we have spent here, have been the happiest of our lives. It has been the bridging over from childhood into womanhood and manhood, and our life's decisions have been made during these four years, or will be shortly after their completion.
