our floor. The game with Fosston was fast and hard fought. Luchau, playing center for the Aggies, showed his ability as a star player by scoring four field goals out of five attempts. It is regrettable that illness prevented him from playing the remainder of the season.

Like all other contests with the West Central School at Morris, the annual basketball game is always keenly anticipated by the Aggies. The game this year was no exception. It was looked forward to as the most important on our schedule. The Crookston Aggies went into the game with a determination to win and, as a result, Morris was completely outclassed. Accurate shooting and driving team work on the part of our team gave them the lead early in the game, and from then on they had their opponents bewildered. Due to close guarding by Ostlie, Morris was unable to make many scores. The fast work of Hedstrand was very effective in breaking up their plays. Honors go to Gandrud, Skatvold, and Stenborg for their scoring during the game. This was the best game played by our team this season. The last game was with the Bemidji Teachers at Bemidji, which resulted in a 19-16 victory for the Aggies.

Credit for developing from a squad of practically all inexperienced men, a team that has won the respect of the various teams played, is due Coach D. H. La Voi, assisted by D. A. Milligan.
