“Applesauce”

Yes, the play—The play—“Applesauce!” It was a very clever and amusing comedy of modern domestic life, showing how a young man wins everything and everybody by flattery, commonly termed “applesauce.” Every member of the cast was especially well suited to his part, and the enthusiasm of the audience showed that every part was well taken. When we say that this was the best play ever put on by the Northwest School,—that isn’t applesauce.
