

The Red River Aggie

ARMISTICE DAY

November 11 was observed at this school by giving a program in memory of the day. Mr. Loring of Crookston delivered an address, and several musical numbers were given by Miss Polski, Miss Brown, and the mixed chorus. After the program the faculty and students, headed by the Crookston American Legion Drum Corps, marched to the memorial. A floral tribute to our dead was placed on the monument by our Senior class president, Theodore Carlson. The program of the day was ended by the sounding of bugles and shooting of guns.

OUTDOOR FESTIVAL

"What's it all about?" queried the Freshmen as on October 15 the faculty and students donned their knockabout clothes. However, the ignorant were soon informed. Lonesomeness and homesickness were forgotten during the lively time which followed the outdoor supper. The various class contests were the cause of much excitement and interest as the students spurred the contestants on toward their goals. The Larson-Rutt pillow fight, the broom duel by the Widseth brothers and the girls' race won by Miss Simley were a few exciting events of the evening. The snake dance and the burning of the Morris goat brought the festival to a fitting close.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION

October 8, 1927, our student body and faculty held their first social gathering. This party, which was held in the gymnasium, was sponsored by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. The students and faculty, after having been introduced to one and all, were entertained with games and stunts. At the close of the program refreshments were served. This party was given for the purpose of giving the students and faculty a chance to become better acquainted with each other. After the evening's performance, every new student felt himself or herself a part of the N. W. S. A.

GIRLS' FROLIC AND BOYS' POW WOW

October 5 marked the first social event of the school year. The girls held their Frolic in Robertson hall parlor, while the boys held their Pow Wow at Senior Hall parlor. These gatherings were held for the purpose of getting the upper classmen acquainted with the freshmen and new students. Jokes, speeches, and music featured both parties and also a wild scramble for apples. The freshmen were initiated, and the girls were given the privilege of joining the Ku Klux Klan club. The boys concluded their party by serenading the girls at Robertson. All adjourned feeling very well satisfied with the evening's entertainment.
