

Athletics

ATHLETICS play a vital part in every school program. Benefits from participation in the various branches of athletics are too numerous to mention. At the Northwest School we are fortunate in having our athletic program in the hands of two men who possess experience, character, and foresight. Under their careful guidance athletics have progressed to their present high standard. The records established by the athletic teams of the Northwest School are due to the hard work of these individuals and it is fitting and proper that we pay our respects to them.

Thomas M. McCall

Mr. LaVoi, athletic coach, instructor in Physical Education and teacher of Economics, Sociology, and Types and Breeds, joined the faculty of the Northwest School in the fall of 1923. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. Since coming to this institution he has established a remarkable record and his athletic teams have gained fame throughout the Northwest. Not only as a coach but as a teacher Mr. LaVoi has endeared himself to the student body and his influence is felt throughout the Red River Valley.

Mr. McCall, athletic director, and head of the Department of Horticulture, instructor in Botany, Fruits and Vegetable Gardening, came to the school in June, 1911 and is the oldest faculty member in point of service. For a number of years Mr. McCall acted as coach, and since then, has kept in close contact with the work as faculty manager of athletics. His many wise suggestions have aided in the expansion of our athletic program. His long term of service at the Northwest School has benefited all those with whom he has come in contact.
