AMBITIOUS POULTRY STUDENT MAKES GOOD

G. Freshman: "Miss Fyling, I would like to get the poem, "Sohrab and Rooster."

THE SENIOR'S LAST REQUEST

In the gloaming, oh, my darling,
When the lights are dim and low,
That your face is powder, painted,
How am I, sweetheart, to know?

Thrice this week, dear, I have bundled,
Every coat that I possess
To the cleaners. Oh, my darling!
Love me more and powder less.

George S.: "So you're going to get married? To whom?"

Herbert S.: "To Mary. She's a lovely girl and I think she's very economic."

George S.: "What makes you think so?"

Herbert S.: "Well, she's always trying to reduce expenses. When I go to see her every evening, she puts out the light, and insists that we both sit on the same chair.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

(Apologies to Shakespeare)

To be, or not to be,—That is the question;
Whether 'tis honorable to bluff one's way
Through the classes and suffer the loss of knowledge that could be absorbed by Being prepared.
Or take on a permanent aspect like studying
In the evening, for the sea of questions
That come up in class, by answering, end them.
To skip; to bluff; no more; and by
Answer to say we end the heart ache,
And the thousand natural shocks
The faculty is heir to; 'tis a
Consummation devoutly to be wished
To skip; to bluff; to bluff; perchance
To flunk; ay, there's the rub.
