The Class of 1931

The fall term of '30 found the class of '31 back to the N. W. S. A. ready to resume their work in both their studies and their class activities. We take great pride in saying that the class of '31 is the largest senior class ever in attendance at the Northwest School. Not only do we boast of quantity but we have quality in our class and are justly proud of the fact.

Although we have always been ready to enter whole heartedly into any diversion, our classmates have shown their ability in both scholastic and athletic achievements. The class of '31 has always held supremacy in the honor roll and this year was no exception. Our interclass contests have shown that we were just as loyal to our class and just as cooperative as we were when we were Juniors and Freshmen.

Our class yell, "Stand them on their head, stand them on their feet, the class of '31 can't be beat," is suggestive of the class. Our class colors are cardinal and silver. Our silver anniversary year book has been planned, using these colors as a theme. Our class flower is the red carnation.

Under the guiding hands of our class advisers, Mrs. Genung and Miss Warne, the class of '31 has had a happy and successful career at the school. The Seniors are proud of their Alma Mater, and have been loyal to their class motto, "Climb, though the rocks be rugged."
