

The Reuttell Sweaters

Among the many friends of the Northwest school in the city of Crookston is the Reuttell Clothing Company. Their contribution of the Reuttell Sweater each year has done much to stimulate sportsmanship among the Aggies.

For a number of years it has been the custom for the Reuttell Clothing Company to award a sweater to the most valuable man on both the football and basketball teams.

The most valuable man is to be voted upon by his fellow teammates, the Coach, the Crookston Daily Times and the Reuttell Clothing Company.

The sweater for basketball during the 1929-1930 season was awarded to Elmer Johnson of Erskine who was chosen to be the most valuable man on the team.

Lawrence Peterson of Gary was voted to be the most valuable man of the football team for 1930, by his teammates and the other voters.

The entire team of both football and basketball wish to take this opportunity to thank the Reuttell Clothing Company for their contributions of sweaters and also their interest in our institution.
