

Alumni

The annual Home Coming celebration for the Alumni of the Northwest School was held Saturday, October 25. The day proved to be a success in every way, and the largest crowd that was ever assembled at the Northwest School, was present to attend the Dedication of the new Physical Education Building. There were a great many of our near neighbors and boosters from Crookston present, as well as, a very large representation of the ever increasing group of Alumni. The weather was ideal for such a large crowd.

At one o'clock a special assembly was held for the dedication of the new Physical Education Building. The main speakers of the afternoon were: Honorable J. E. Sandberg, Dean Coffey and Mr. Lawrence, who is assistant to President Coffman. There were also a few short talks given by some of the business men of Crookston, who have always taken a keen interest in the success of the school. A program at the Northwest School, as the Alumni know, would not be complete without some musical numbers. So there were appropriate selections rendered by both the Mixed Chorus and the Aggie Pepsters. After a very fitting program for the dedication of the new edifice, this structure and Kiehle building were inspected. It was not only a pleasure for the Alumni members to visit Kiehle and the Physical Education Building but also for the present students as well. These buildings were open for inspection for the first time during this day and the Alumni and students were especially anxious to see the interior of Kiehle, to see how the new library and the new Auditorium are arranged.

At three o'clock the Crookston Aggies clashed with the Morris Aggies in their annual football game. The game was filled with excitement from beginning to end, and ended with a score of 20-0 in favor of Crookston Aggies.

Dinner, which was enjoyed by all, was served in the Dining Hall at six o'clock. At this time some of the outstanding persons of the Alumni were asked to give a few words, and responded heartily.

At eight o'clock a dance was held in the new Gymnasium. This drew to a close what we called a most perfect day.
