

At the Dining Hall

Y. M.—Y. W. RECEPTION

This year the annual reception was held in the dining hall. The beautiful room proved to be a splendid background for the games and the grand march. The refreshments were served in the cafeteria, and by the time the last ice cream sandwich was consumed, everybody knew everybody else on the campus.

THE GET TOGETHER BANQUETS

Just before Christmas each year on the Thursday night before we go home, we assemble in the dining hall for one of the happiest occasions of the year. One member of each class speaks in behalf of his class to wish the others a Merry Christmas, a new member of the faculty speaks and Mr. Dowell, and some visitor from Crookston also add to the good wishes. Various musical organizations add to the Christmas atmosphere.

Tinged a bit by the sadness that always hangs over the commencement season, the banquet at noon of the last Thursday of school is still a happy affair. Various awards and announcements of interest are made at this time.

THANKSGIVING

Any suspicion of homesickness on Thanksgiving day is dispelled by the dinner which Miss Lippett provides at that time. A turkey dinner which leaves us full and happy for the day, served to an accompaniment of informal entertainment, is followed by a program at the Auditorium.

THE JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

Every year the Junior Class are hosts to the Seniors at a formal banquet which is served at the dining hall. Colorful decorations, and the bright dresses worn by the girls combine to make this one of the most beautiful events of the year.
