

ADVICE TO FRESHMEN

Wise Junior: "Say Freshmen, you want to keep your eyes open around here."

Green Freshman: "Why?"

W. J.: "Folks will think you are a darn fool if you go around with them closed all the time."

Don't think you own the school. The Juniors still imagine they have the first claim.

Don't keep telling how they do things in what part of the country from which you came. The assumption is what you are to learn.

Don't forget to attend your classes. The information dispensed there is often found invaluable in passing exams.

Don't kill your conscience. You'll never be thought less of in school, for hanging onto principle. Just be sure your principles are worth sticking for and then stick.

"DEFINE THE WORD 'PEDAGOGUE.'"

"One who is green."

"One who is alone."

"The other fellow."

"A man who tries to get a girl."

"One who is a fool."

"A flirt."

Ann Thorsen: "What do you think of Mussolini?"

Agnes Lundin: "I've never been out with him."

Freshman: "Do you write your themes in red ink now?"

Carter Mortenson: "No, this is one that Miss Warne corrected."
