Advanced Class

We, the members of the class of 1931, whose school days at the Northwest School will soon be over, now avail ourselves of this opportunity to bid a last farewell.

When we began our careers here as freshmen, our number totaled more than one hundred. Of this original number but nineteen now remain as advanced, although many others have joined our ranks since we were freshmen.

During the course of four happy, fleeting years here, we have always been a progressive class, and have continually striven for higher standards. Our members will now soon scatter, some planning to go on to college. Those of us who will not be able to do this realize that we are not through with our education, but will continue it in the school of life and experience.

Whatever our various stations in life may become, it will be our constant endeavor to always maintain the high ideals of the Northwest School.

*"Our Aggie days now are ending,
 We've had our fun, 'tis true,
 But now, with a feeling of sadness,
 We bid you a fond adieu."*
