

MUSIC

Oh, Doctor!

On January 30 and February 1 the mixed chorus, boys' glee club, and girls' glee club presented the Operetta, "Oh, Doctor!" under the direction of Mrs. Roy W. Hollander, who has been in charge of the work in voice during the past three years.

To successfully stage such an ambitious production requires the kind of leadership and cooperation for which the Northwest School is famous. Needless to say it was one of the finest programs ever presented in the school auditorium.

The books and lyrics of the Operetta were written by Estelle Merryman Clark, with the music written by Palmer John Clark. The scene was laid somewhere east of the Rio Grande, not far from the border separating Mexico from the United States, Mexican tunes and costumes added much color to the production.

The cast was as follows:

Doctor Drinkwater, Proprietor of Drinkwater Sanitarium	- - -	Don McCall
Mrs. Weakly	} Patients in Sanitarium	Carrie Buck
Mrs. Crossly		Olive Heegard
Doctor Slaughter	} Three Doctors at Sanitarium	Edwin Myers
Doctor Cuttem		Clinton Donley
Doctor Coffin		Arnold Iverson
Rainbow, Colored Servant at Sanitarium		Wendell Washburn
Bessie, Maid at Sanitarium	- - -	Frances McKibbin
Honor, Pretending to be Glory Drinkwater	- - -	Virginia Harding
Madam Chere, her Mother	- - -	Vivian Sullivan
Glory Drinkwater, Doctor Drinkwater's Granddaughter	- - -	Arlene Hill
Pancho, Mexican cowboy	- - -	Helmer Nornes
Philip, Young ranch owner	- - -	Lowell Ryden
Jim	} From Philip's ranch	Edwin Widseth
Old Timer		Clarence Peterson
Bob, Glory's fiance	- - -	Russell Knudtson
Cynthia, his cousin	- - -	Edna Sorenson
Manuel, Mexican rustler	- - -	Allan Hoff

Choruses of Doctors, Patients, Nurses, Visitors, Cowboys, Spanish Girls and Boys, and Mexicans added much color to a most delightful program.