

Acknowledgments

The editors wish to express their appreciation of the fine cooperation and assistance received not only from the members of the Senior Class, but members of the faculty and entire student body. This spirit of mutual helpfulness has materially aided the Aggie Board in their attempt to publish an annual that would serve as a fitting record of Campus life and school activities.

In this expression of appreciation, we wish to give special recognition to those who devoted much time and thought to the preparation of the various chapters.

To Mr. C. J. Brown of the Buckbee Mears Company for his many valuable suggestions regarding photographs, panels, and divisional pages.

To Mr. John Benson of the Benson Studio for his untiring efforts and patience in securing the many photographs required in preparing this annual.

To Mr. A. M. Foker for his assistance in connection with the numerous panels and art work.

To Mr. A. M. Pilkey for his helpfulness in outlining the subscription campaign.

To Miss Grace Warne for her timely suggestions throughout the year.

To Mrs. Vivian Schmit for her excellent service in typing, proof reading and bookkeeping, and to Miss Kate Bedard for her courtesy in supervising the class finances.

To the Crookston Daily Times Printing Company for helpful suggestions in printing and binding this volume.

To our advertisers we are especially grateful, for their contributions have materially aided in the publication of this book. We are proud of the fine feeling that prevails between the business men and citizens of Crookston and the Northwest School.

We hope that no one will be offended by either the factual material or personal comments, for the word "malice" has been eliminated from the Aggie Board vocabulary.

This volume is not intended to be a scientific production or a contribution to human thought, but rather an appropriate summary of work and play at the "School of Service".
