CLASS OF 1934

The class of 1934 are well aware of the fact that they are enrolled at the Northwest School under the shadows of depression and at great sacrifice to their parents. So we have missed several of our last year's classmates from our ranks this year. But we have added a few new ones whom we welcome most heartily. During our two short years here we have endeavored to make the most of our opportunities both in classes and in extra-curricular activities. In the song contest we have ranked third both years; in the outdoor festival and in the livestock judging contest we again won third place. We trust that winning third place does not become a habit. There are, however, fields in which we shine more brilliantly.

LESTER LERUD, President.
