

FORWORD

Nineteen thirty-three is a silver anniversary Ours is the twenty-fifth graduating class of the Northwest School of Agriculture. Over twelve hundred boys and girls have proudly received diplomas here bearing the seal of the University of Minnesota. Over twelve hundred young men and young women have gone out into the world taking with them the splendid training, the culture, the ideals, the beloved memories of this institution.

In this book we have contrasted the old with the new. We know that the class of 1909 was proud and happy to have been the first to graduate, and we of 1933 are proud and happy to have come twenty-five years later, and to have enjoyed the greater service that the Northwest School has been able to give because of the intervening twenty-five years of growth.

We give you this book to commemorate that growth.