

LH
1
N87
1934

FOREWORD

Since each day spent with our schoolmates places in silhouette against the memory some small, hushed note of companionship; some unexpected shade of friendship's meaning; some nuance in the color of our personalities; we give this year book to our friends, hoping that its pages may long compose a pot-pourri of reminiscent thoughts, recording the happiness and achievement we knew together.

COLEMAN COLLEGE LIBRARY
MOOREHEAD, W.VA.

