

LETTER

ELMER ROSS
End

Elmer played a brilliant game throughout the season and was responsible for many long runs and touchdowns. His ability to get down the field, and receive long passes was well demonstrated on many occasions.

CARMEN EEG
Tackle

Eeg was another stalwart man that was responsible for preventing opponents from crashing through the line. This was Carmen's first year at football and his last year at school.

WILLARD KIMMEL
Guard and Tackle

"Curly" playing his second year on the N. W. S. A. gridiron, proved invaluable in preventing rivals from crashing through our line. When end runs were made "Curly" was the stiff interference which spoiled the opponents' plans.

EDSCN WASHBURN
Guard

What "Eds" lacked in size he made up in grit and determination. When called upon to run interference or to "block out" an opponent "Eds" was right there.

RODNEY LINDSTROM
Quarter and Halfback

"Rod" distinguished himself in both the quarterback and halfback positions. His rivals soon discovered his ability to slip, pass through and go for a touchdown. Rod, playing only one year, ended his short career in a blaze of glory.

THEOS MORCK
Quarterback

Playing his first year on an Aggie team, "Thesis" performed at quarterback in a superb manner. His cool generalship of the team at a crucial moment was in a large measure responsible for another championship this year.

GEORGE KERSTING
Guard

George, another of our defensive players, ended a most successful season on the Aggie squad. With two years left to play, the outlook seems bright for us.

GILBERT GUNDERSON
Tackle

"Gunder" is known to his teammates and opponents as one of the hardest hitters and best blockers on the field. He has one year left to play.

TORLIEF BOE
Tackle

"Norsky" caused many a player to tremble as he faced him on the gridiron. A terror on the defense and a stone wall on the offense, opponents just naturally made way for him.

23