

Who Is the Most Dignified Student?

What we can't understand is why more of you students didn't vote for us seniors. Must be we haven't properly impressed you with our dignity, 'cause now we gotta go and let Bud have the honors we were sure one of us would get.

Who Is the Most Bashful Faculty Member?

We really wouldn't have thought much about it but when the votes came in we decided more than one person had noticed that blush.

Who Is the Greatest Ladies' Man?

The votes were tied for Billberg and Phil and so Agatha confessed that she really wouldn't have voted for Billberg if she had known how to spell LeMasuriere, so that put Phil one vote ahead. (We suspect that wasn't the only case, either.)

Who Is the Best Boy Dancer?

(We had better mention that the standard for judging was: 1—good form; 2—appearance on floor; 3—ease of following). Curly won on all three. So that eliminates that Freshman who chased us around the gym for one whole dance at a high rate of speed. We didn't care if we got there first but it made us dizzy passing people so fast.

What Faculty Member Is Heaviest on Assignments?

We just suspect that this was the season when term papers were due and everyone was consequently "Haugland conscious." If the votes had been cast a week later when those two hundred algebra problems were assigned we are pretty sure the vote would have gone otherwise.

Who Is the Best Girl Dancer?

Ebba can keep her feet out from under ours about the best of anyone and she's not so heavy to push around, either. (Note from ballot).

Who Is the Most Longwinded Faculty Member?

And that's what comes of training the voice—it lasts longer than the untrained. There are a few faculty members whom we would hate to see begin to train their voices because we think we see a vicious look in their eye right now. Mr. McGenty—owner of the trained voice—leads.

Who Always Recites?

And what we mean is "recite," not just say a lot of words. Some people thought we might not look at that angle so they voted for a few notorious bluffers which of course brought Anna's total score a little lower.

Who Is the Peppiest Girl?

When it comes to being an all around basketball player, an entertaining actress, a quick little waitress and a girl who still has plenty of time to spare to do lots of interesting things, we just knew Karine would take the lead.

Who Is the Tardiest Faculty Member?

Our of fairness to the losers we would like to state that this vote was considered on the number of classes taught. For instance, Mr. Clark doesn't teach so many classes so he just got second place, etc., etc., with Miss Hughbanks and Mr. Dunham trailing not far behind.
