

Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, March 2, 1936

Program

Waltz . . . . . Tschaikowsky
Orchestra

And Viking hosts, midst wassail and feasting, gave pause from doing . . . Raymond Higgin

Young warriors were there
Untried, for battle eager . . . Patricia Durbahn

Saeterjentens Sondag —Violin Solo . Grace Warne

And heroes, keen from first victories,
Spoke modest words . . . . . Fred Cook

Winds—Test—Vocal Solo . Chester Ingebretson

Came the war-scarred,
New laurels seeking . . . Violet Lundberg

Den norske prest—Reading . Glennie Iverson

A chieftan spoke,
And his words were wise . Mr. R. S. Dunham

Dear Land of Home . . . . . Sibelius

Octette

Then rose one high in the councils,
And he spoke as one who knew

Superintendent A. A. Dowell

Done, the feasting and proud talk.

The annual Junior-Senior banquet and prom was held on Monday evening, March 2nd, when the members of the Junior class together with their advisers, Miss Katherine Hennig and Mr. Carl Ritzman, entertained the members of the Senior class with their advisers, Mr. and Mrs. Christgau.

The banquet which was held in the dining hall was a unique affair, having for its central theme the Vikings or Norsemen. The speaker's table was arranged to represent a Viking ship with dragon's head at the prow. The Senior class colors of royal purple and gold were used effectively throughout the room in paper streamers, and on the flag which was used as a mast-head on the ship.

Following the dinner a program of music and after dinner speeches was enjoyed with the president of the Junior class, Ray Higgin, acting as toastmaster.

The prom which followed was held in the gymnasium which further carried out the Norse theme by being termed the Land of the Midnight Sun. It was hung with replicas of Viking shields and around the dance floor were representations of Norwegian fjords.

The grand march was under the direction of Miss Retta Bede and Miss Elsie Mae Kingston and was led by the Junior class officers.

Finis

We close this book with the hope that we have achieved, in part at least, the objective set forth in the Foreword. As a parting expression of our appreciation for valuable assistance, we offer "orchids" to:

Miss Bedard and Miss O'Connell for handling our finances.

Mr. Foker for the cartoons in our Hysterical section.

Mr. Mills of The Sanford Press, the printer of this book.

Mr. Fredell of Buckbee Mears, the engraver.

Mr. Benson, our photographer.

Mr. Dowell and Staff members who contributed to our historical section.

Our Advertisers, whose contributions help make this publication possible.

Our Readers, without whose purchases and interest there could be no Aggie.

THE CLASS OF 1936