

Top Row—Aune, T. Hemmestvedt, Oen, Halvorsen, V. Dahlgren, Homstad, Carlson, A. Anderson, W. Clementson, E. Riopelle, G. Olson, Mellesmoen, A. Merdink, Norquist, M. Nabben, Stolan, Oistad, Balstad, Wendt, C. Trangsrud, C. Johnson, H. Solberg, U. Magnusson, Lantz.

Second Row—Walter, Iverson, Torkelson, O. Landsverk, Arness, F. Pearson, C. Sorrells, Y. Magnusson, Hoard, L. Bergeron, Weindorf, Jeffrey, Satre, Bicking, Augustine, Wardell, Patenaude, Becker, B. Merdink, Lokken, G. Olson, Watt, Durbahn, A. Olson, A. Larson, R. Brandt.

First Row—Stoneouse, Haug, Slettvedt, Tveiten, Swenson, L. Kellerman, Blakely, I. McVeety, Krogstad, Schilling, W. Evans, Tandberg, D. Evans, Miss Hennig, Mr. Ritzman, Higgin, Hoiseth, H. Kellerman, Dalager, D. Hegreberg, Hedlund, P. Johnson, Abbott, G. Worman, E. Worman, G. Tangen.

Junior Class

With high aims and lots of ambition one hundred and nine young men and women looking eagerly into the future enrolled in the Freshman class at the Northwest School on Monday, October 1, 1934. Through examples set by other classes and by results gained, we very soon learned to work together as one body. With the thought in mind of accomplishing things and preparing ourselves for future inter-class events, we chose as our advisers Miss Hennig and Mr. Kallal, who graciously accepted their duties in aiding us and guiding us toward success.

In the inter-class events we made a showing that caused rumors among the upper classes of a promising Freshman class. In the song contest we went beyond our ranks and took third place. In the annual basketball tournament we finished in second place.

We also lost many close contests. Spring came much too soon, but we were inspired by the fact that we would return as Juniors.

We embarked on our Junior year with great determination and growing enthusiasm to carry on the work which we felt we had successfully begun in our freshman year. Many familiar faces were missing, but bright new ones totally filled their places. We regretted very much that one of our advisers, Mr. Kallal, did not return, but we quickly organized ourselves and chose as his successor a very capable man, Mr. Ritzman. With the deep interest Miss Hennig and Mr. Ritzman show in our class, and with the cooperation of our class members, we are looking forward to the conclusion of another happy school year.

CLASS OFFICERS

RAY HIGGIN	President	DOROTHY EVANS	Secretary
WOODROW EVANS	Vice President	MORRIS DAHL	Treasurer
CHESTER TANDBERG	Sergeant-at-Arms		