

Remember This?

Our Banquet

The Junior-Senior banquet and prom is always a gala affair and the 1936 one certainly was. The members of the Junior class together with its advisors, Miss Katherine Hennig and Mr. Carl Ritzman entertained the members of the Senior class with their advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Christgau.

The banquet was held in the Dining Hall with a Central theme of Norsemen as Vikings. The speakers' table was arranged to represent a Viking ship with a dragon's head at the prow. A flag made with the Senior class colors, royal purple and gold, floated from the mast of the ship.

Following the dinner, Ray Higgin, president of the Junior class, acting as toastmaster, presided over a program, which opened with the selection, "Waltz" by Tschaiowsky, by the school Orchestra under the direction of Miss Nelson. Ray Higgin began the program by having for his subject, "And Viking hosts, midst wassail." Patricia Durbahn, speaking for the Junior class, had as her topic, "Young warriors were there, untried, for battle eager." Miss Grace Warner next played a violin solo "Saeter—jentens Sondog," after which Fred Cook responded with a toast from the Senior class, the topic being, "And heroes, keen from victories spoke modest words." Chester Ingebretson favored us with a vocal solo, "Winds"—Test. Violet Lundberg speaking for the Advanced class had as her subject "Came the war-scarred, new laurels seeking." Glennie Iverson, a member of the Junior class, gave a reading "Den norske prest," followed by Mr. R. S. Dunham speaking on the subject "A chieftan spake, and his words were wise." The Octette next sang "Dear Land of Home." Dr. Dowell, as the last speaker on the program spoke on "Then rose one high in the counsels, and he spoke as one who knew," and "Done, was the feasting and proud talk."

The prom which followed was held in the gymnasium also carrying out the Norse theme. It was termed the Land of the Midnight Sun. Around the dance floor were representations of fjords and Viking shields.

The grand march under the direction of Miss Bede and Miss Kingston opened the dance. The grand march was led by the Junior class officers.