Carlson and Carlson is what the outfit might be called. Ray gave Roy a run for his money when it came to their position.

Roy Carlson made many a hole in the opponents' line for some secondary to drive through. Roy had a power of distinguishing the enemy's plays before they were pulled.

Hegreberg was one of those fast and shifty ends. When Phil went down for a pass it was bound to be caught. Phil was one of the team's lightest men but he was a bear-cat when it came to football.

Hemmestvedt played for all he had when he got a chance against the enemy. Trummy was a clean fighter and a great sport. He is connected closely with Aggie victories.

Dahl was a powerful and steady end. Not many plays failed that went around his end. He always had some trick up his sleeve. Morrie's going to town next year.

Harris showed high ability in driving and speed. Lloyal's going to be in there fighting next year. He aided a lot in defeating the enemy this year.

Radway never gave up. When Rich came into the line-up, the opponents knew they would have to buck up. Rich was hurt badly during the season but played a lot anyhow.

Rader jokes a lot, but when he plays football there's no joking about it. Tschaikowsky came here as a Senior and proved his seniority in football.

Weckwerth aided the team in its march to conference victory. Weck managed his job as manager really well.
