

BELIEVE IT OR NOT!

Dorothy Abbot walked home from social hour alone.

The Seniors lost the Volleyball Tournament.

Harold Klemetson doesn't like the girls.

Danny came on time for breakfast one morning.

Cliff wants to get out of the dish washing trade.

Grace made a remark that wasn't sarcastic.

Obert was kissed by a girl at Warren for the first time in his life.

Pee Wee takes Millie to show and she weeps on his shoulder.

Mr. Pilkey told a new joke that was really funny.

Bernard works on thesis until three o'clock in the morning.

Seniors learn to sing in Russian despite the Scandinavian accent.

Delsie thinks she has become an angel.

Only 73 Seniors present at Song Contest.

Some of the Senior girls just escaped a campus.

Danny ran out of words to say to the girls.

We are having another dance Saturday night.

Wilson likes a variety of girls.

Bud Berquist finds out how birdies sing.

Winston is not on the below grade list this week.

Feature editors lost part of the calendar.

Duchess can't get along without Jock.

Mons, the Senior Hall pet, was locked in the attic for a week and came out alive.

Dorothy Setterholm got an F in an Algebra test.

Myrtle and Harold gave their Senior Research Papers in assembly and were thrilled all over about it.

Mr. Mlinar likes to lead community singing.

Lester Maves tried to raise a mustache, but it was invisible.

Snorky was on time for Livestock Management class one day.

Wilson and Albert fell asleep at Aggie Board meeting.

Millie sewed a button on Streeter's coat in class.

Miss Kingston wanted privacy Monday night.

Streeter finally shaved off his cookie duster.

Edith Ramberg has learned to skate.

Helen stayed up till ten o'clock one night.

The boys like Myrtle's pepster picture.

Elmer Moe is most studious chap in Senior Hall.

Delsie is kissed by Lloyal in play while Kermit g'ares from the wings.

Wilson fries hamburgers in Home Ec. for weary and hungry Aggie Board members.

Bernard is getting old—Russian dance is too hard on his legs.

Katherine Molacek is responsible for effects of the love scenes in Senior play.

Last Aggie Board meeting is held on February 28th—Aggie goes to press!

