

A MESSAGE TO THE SENIORS

ASSUMING the advisorship of a class in its year of graduation we have not come to know you as well as we might have. However, this one year's association has given us many things. You have afforded us the opportunity to gain a clearer understanding of students' problems and students' ability to meet those problems. You have shown us the value of those contacts which occur outside the classroom.

Your activities, as a class, have demonstrated the value of cooperative endeavor in a group whose members are striving toward a common goal. We hope that this spirit of cooperation will characterize the future activities of each of you.

We congratulate you at the time of your graduation upon your achievement thus far, and we are sincerely interested in your future activities, whether they be here or elsewhere. May you have all possible good fortune from this time forth.

Sincerely,

Marion Frykman
