

JACK FERRIER - - - - - Pitt
BACKFIELD

Jack was playing his second season of football for the Northwest School. One more year remains. This scrappy Irishman played a bang-up game from the opening to the final whistle.

MELVIN GIBBONS - - - - - Crookston
BACKFIELD

He may be a feather-weight but his speed and shiftiness gained considerable yardage for the maroon and gold team.

LLOYAL HARRIS - - - - - Wadena
BACKFIELD

He was usually given the blocking assignment and always carried it out to the letter. As a ball carrier he smashed through the opponents' line with regularity.

GEORGE HENRE - - - - - Crookston
END

This was George's first year with the Aggies. He was spectacular in hauling down forward passes. One more year of service remains.

JAMES LENES - - - - - Fosston
BACKFIELD

Jimmy's play was spectacular. The greatest game of his career was against the Morris Aggies when Jimmy was given the quarterback assignment and did everything perfectly.

LLOYD LUND - - - - - Thief River Falls
LINE AND BACKFIELD

The hardest socking lineman on the squad. Started as a tackle, then was shifted to backfield where his speed, charging, and punting awed spectators.

The Northwest Aggies made the trip to Grand Rapids on October 24. This was the first conference game. Two minutes after the opening kickoff the Northwest Ags scored the first of several touchdowns. They kept up the smashing work until they had downed their conference rivals by a 38-7 count.
