“Oh, Aggies, Cheer! Oh, Aggies, Cheer!”

In natty maroon and gold uniforms, and with lots of pep, the four Northwest School pepsters have this year raised the vociferous art of cheer leading and cheering to a new high in achievement. The introduction of new yells, the adoption of clever formations, and the calling of regular practice sessions has produced the best cheering section in school history. To Elizabeth Taylor, Camilla Ecklund, Doris Sjostrand, and Annabelle Jeffrey goes the credit for the display of pep and enthusiasm at school assemblies and at athletic events.

A New School Song

A new pep song, titled “Northwest Aggies Fight” was presented to the school on Saturday, October 14 by Miss Grace Warne, instructor in English and violin. At a special assembly program the new song was first presented in a two piano arrangement by Miss Warne and Miss Marion Frykman. This was followed by a trumpet arrangement of the song played by Mr. Ben Bakkegaard. As a finale the two pianos, the trumpet, and a vocal octet combined in the rendition of the song.

Following this introductory ceremony Superintendent McCall accepted the song for the school and presented Miss Warne with a bouquet. “It is an honor and a pleasure for me on behalf of the students and faculty of the Northwest School to formally accept this new song. School songs help build traditions and atmosphere . . . Miss Warne, you have done much to enrich the spirit of the Northwest School and I am confident that this stirring song will ever remain among the most popular of the Northwest School songs.”
