

ADVANCED DAY

"All Hail the King and Queen"

In an impressive ceremony held as a part of Advanced Class Day the King and Queen of the class were crowned in the presence of the entire school at an all school assembly celebrating the day of days for the fourth year students.

Using a coronation ceremony patterned after that of European nobility the program opened with the march of all members of the Advanced Class to the auditorium as a prelude to the presentation of the King and Queen.

The sound of trumpets announced the entrance of the Queen of the Advanced Class who was Delsie Filipi, Angus.

Trumpets again sounded the entrance of the King whose identity was likewise unknown to classmates and to the school until his appearance for the coronation ceremony. Wilson Radway, Roosevelt, was elected King of the class by his classmates at a meeting held several weeks in advance of this class day.

With King and Queen as well as the lords and ladies of the court dressed in regal raiment the entire ceremony and program proved to be a most colorful affair.

Miss Dorothy M. Smith and Registrar J. W. Mlinar were advisers of the Advanced Class.

Pictures: (top to bottom)

Entertainment for the King and Queen. The Russian dancers thrilled their Majesties.

The King and Queen and the lords and ladies of the court.

Miss Dorothy M. Smith receives the royal command to appear before the King and Queen.

Their Majesties command all their subjects of the Advanced realm to appear in the throne room.

Queen Delsie and King Wilson.

Queen Delsie and her especial boy friend, Kermit Trangsrud.

