CLASSMATES:

It has been an enjoyable responsibility for us, the present officers of the graduating class of '41, to help in whatever way possible.

You have shown your appreciation to us by helping and co-operating whenever we have requested.

Your ability to plan, produce, and work together as a unit was shown in the brilliance of the 1940 Junior-Senior banquet. You have proven your good sportsmanship in such ways as intra-mural games, contests, and otherwise. We recognize you all as leaders of your group.

We hope that we shall be able to continue next year as we have done for the last three years—planning, co-operating, and producing.
