Eleven forty each Monday morning and thirty girls gather in the school auditorium for the weekly meeting and practice of the Girls' Glee Club. "Our next appearance will be on the Parents' Day program, November 9th—so we'll have to work hard." That is the announcement made by the director, Miss Bierbauer, and the girls begin intensive practice.

Throughout the school year the glee club has made appearances not only on the aforementioned Parents' Day program but also on the Christmas program, the Christmas pageant, Winter Shows, and Commencement exercises. The entire personnel report regularly for the Monday practices since the meeting gives the group its only weekly practice and at the same time affords the girls with fifty minutes of pleasant and valuable relaxation.

Miss Bierbauer, as the director, and Miss Frykman, as the accompanist, have been responsible for the fine work done by the Girls' Glee Club this year.
