The Speech Choir, one of the newer organizations at the Northwest School, is made up of members of the Advanced class who meet twice weekly under the direction of Miss Manning in their study of speech, public speaking, and choral reading. The group made its first appearance at the Winter Shows in Crookston and the work of the choir brought much praise from the audience. For its second appearance, the choir performed at a Speech Assembly held in the school auditorium on Friday, February 28. Famous readings included in the repertoire are: "The Walrus and the Carpenter", "Jesse James", "Bad Sir Bryan Botany", "The Leaden Eye" and "Abraham Lincoln Walks at Midnight".
