The Advanced Class ('41) came to the Northwest School as Freshmen in the fall of 1938 with one hundred and ten members. As Juniors they numbered ninety-eight, as Seniors ninety-six, and this year there are sixty-seven back for their fourth year. As Juniors the class put on an exceptionally lovely banquet using their class colors, royal blue and wine, combined with white to carry out a patriotic theme. As Seniors they published a fine "Aggie" and put on a successful play, "Footloose"
