After a season that was not too impressive and only a handful of regulars returning from last year, Coach Christgau successfully moulded a winning combination. Throughout the entire season the Aggies provided much real excitement and many thrills for the spectators. Despite a record that shows a few small-margin losses, the Aggies had a successful season in sharing the conference championship. Through graduation we are losing some of the most outstanding basketball players that we have had in a number of years; however, Coach Christgau predicts that next year we will again see a lot of good basketball.
