

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

The Class of 1943 came to the school with an enrollment of sixty-four members. Although they were a small class as Freshmen, they were able to place third in the Song Contest and third in the Field Meet. As Juniors, with sixty in the class, they gave the traditional Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom using a circus theme which they carried out in a clever and attractive manner. As Juniors they jumped from third place in the Field Meet, and took first. They also took second in the Outdoor Festival. As seniors this year the class has had an enrollment of eighty-six. They got a good start in their Senior year by winning the Outdoor Festival. Their big project this year is publishing the school's annual, which is a particularly difficult task this year because of the war conditions. During their Freshman and Junior years their class advisers were Miss Webster and Mr. Swan. This year, since the advisers did not return, Mrs. Pofahl and Mr. Foker were elected as class advisers to see the class through their Senior year.
